PROJECTS

DISTRACTED DRIVER ANALYSIS | TensorFlow, CNN, Computer Vision | GitHub Oct'25-Nov' 25

- Developed a CNN-based computer vision model using TensorFlow achieving 92% validation accuracy for classifying distracted driver behaviors.
- Built an end-to-end machine learning pipeline including data preprocessing, data augmentation, model training, model evaluation, and inference.
- Optimized model robustness and generalization through hyperparameter tuning, regularization techniques, and experiment tracking.

PNEUMONIA DETECTION SYSTEM | Pytorch, ResNet-18, Flask | GitHub Jan'26-Feb'26

- Designed a deep learning–based Pneumonia detection system using ResNet-18 (PyTorch) to classify chest X-ray images into NORMAL and PNEUMONIA.
- Implemented an end-to-end model pipeline for training, evaluation, and inference using transfer learning.
- Optimized a Flask-based web application enabling real-time X-ray image uploads and predictions.

TRAINING

From Data to Decisions: A Hands-On Approach On Data Science Jun' 25– Jul' 25

- Formulated a patient risk stratification strategy to classify individuals into low, medium, and high-risk categories using clinical and demographic data.
- Assembled an AI-based speech recognition component for real-time interview simulations.
- Orchestrated the ML workflow covering data preprocessing, feature engineering, training, and validation.
- Leveraged evaluation metrics and visual analytics to support healthcare teams in prioritizing high-risk cases.
